First Row

The year is winding down as we enter the beautiful season of fall. Colorful autumn leaves are about to be framed by vivid cornflower-blue skies. That special "nip" has entered the air, letting us know that winter is not far behind—and that we'd best enjoy what autumn has to offer before it arrives!

Crafters love autumn. And crocheters are no different from the rest. There's something about the cooler weather that delivers its own nip to our creative urges! Trips to the needlecraft shop or department store to "see what's new" in yarns, threads and patterns increase. Our fingers literally itch to get that hook moving into an afghan, a sweater, a doily, a toy or seasonal pattern. We're on a roll!

That's why I've loaded this issue of Crochet World Specials with plenty of patterns, including those for Halloween. Halloween has become such a large part of the craft business that you'll find plenty of fun Halloween party patterns inside to crochet—ghosts, jack-o'-lanterns, witches and spiders!

Wyoming native Alice Pattison sent us a unique and beautiful afghan design. It's the Flowered Granny Afghan on page 46. You'll surely want to get your hook into this design!

There are definitely some unusual pattern items in this issue. The Western Button Covers, the Musical Barrettes, and the Fall Leaf Earrings (page 19) are in the category of not-to-be-found-anywhere-else patterns that you won't want to miss!

When Thanksgiving arrives, celebrate in style with Linda Rude's gorgeous Holiday Tablecloth, on page 35. Pass the rolls in a bread tray adorned with Rosanne Kropp's elegant Bread Tray Doily. As her design says, let's give thanks for all our bounty.

And for all of us who crochet back-to-school sweaters, we haven't let you down! Colleen Sullivan's delightfully colorful Dinosaur Sweater will appear in many school yards this fall as will Rosanne Kropp's Girl's V-Neck Cardigan.

Have a great autumn! See you next issue.
